OUR DEDICATEE

The Class of Nineteen Hundred and Seventy-eight of West Bridgewater High School proudly dedicates this, our yearbook, to Mrs. Sandra A. Reese. Throughout our years at WeeBee, she has encouraged us and guided us as a dedicated teacher, yearbook advisor, Senior class advisor, and most of all, a true friend. And so it is our privilege that we proudly dedicate this, our CLIMBER, to you, Mrs. Reese.

WRITE ON

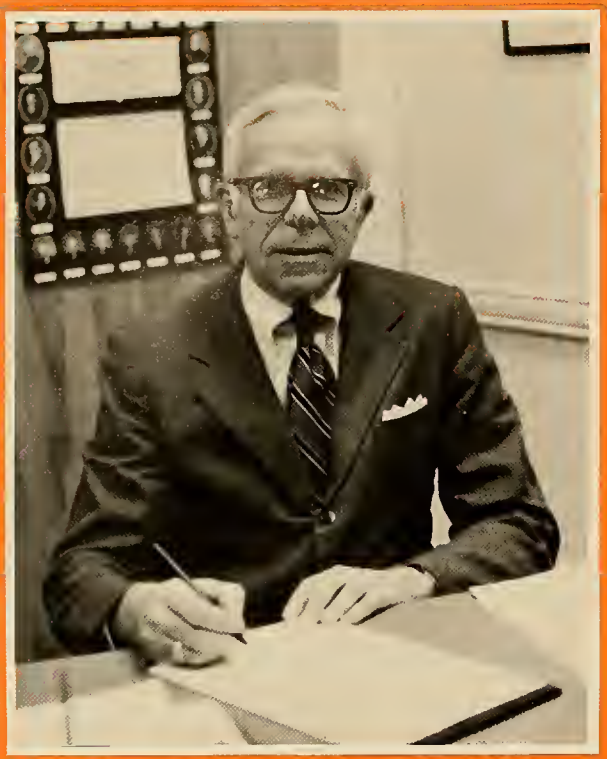

School is now over —
But as one chapter of our life ends,
So another one begins.
We now will decide on the pages to follow.
And even though our pathways may go in different directions,
We will never forget that first chapter:
The times good and bad we had,
The friends we made,
And the people who changed our lives.
One day this book will be finished,
And the memories of those beginning pages will live on.

To the Members of the Class of 1978:

Congratulations upon completing the requirements for graduation. I'm certain it hasn't been easy for most of you. If it's any consolation, it was not any easier when your parents and I graduated. Though you, at the time, resented the pushing you had from parents and teachers, I suspect you're now aware that pressure helped you to become entitled to a West Bridgewater High School diploma.

I thank you, your parents, and your teachers for uniting in this common effort. I say this, because, you're not the only ones who will gain, by your completing high school. True, you'll find your earning potential is higher and you can accordingly expect a better way of life than if you'd quit before now. The rest of the World can also profit, since the lessons you've learned will make you a more knowladgeable and responsible citizen.

High school graduation marks the end of your so-called "compulsory" education. Whatever studying you do after this, will be because you want to do it, you feel a need for it, or your work demands it. When you respond to one or more of those challenges, you'll find this earlier preparation will be of real value. This entire school system, especially the Guidance Department, will still be available and interested in helping you.

At best, we live in an imperfect World. However, in general, it's improving. You can help improve it more, for your families and yourselves, by seeking what you can do for it, not, what it can do for you. Good health, good luck, and God Bless you all.

Sincerely,

Donald A. Fisher

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

HIGH SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION

To the Members of the Class of 1978:

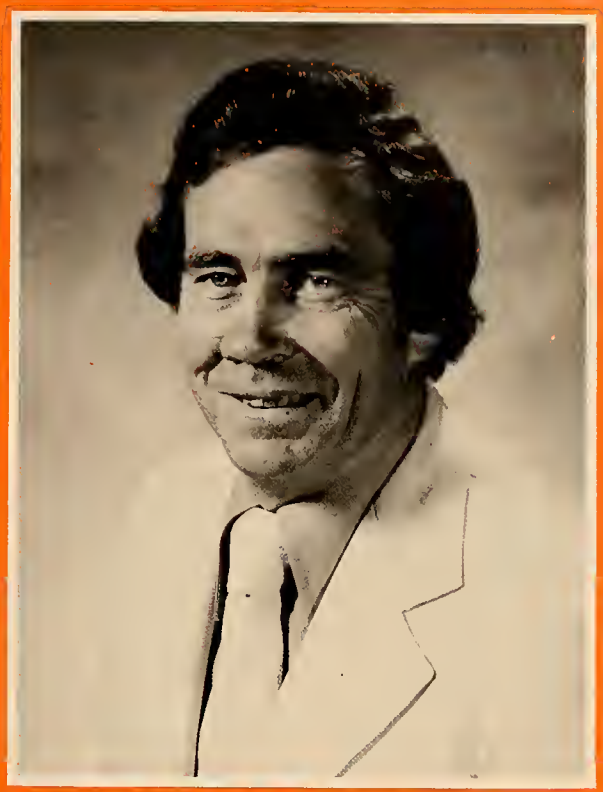

I extend to you, the members of the Class of 1978, my most sincere congratulations upon completion of your formal public school education and subsequent graduation.

During the years that I have been acquainted with your class, I have noted in particular the togetherness and proven desirability to work toward and contribute to the common good.

The development of these values is insidious and hard to explain, but they manifest themselves in success both individually and collectively. Your rational and reasonable approach towards solving problems and meeting situations is refreshing and reassuring but not surprising; not surprising because when a class has desire and a willingness to accept responsibility coupled with many capable students willing to accept leadership roles, it is inevitable that success will be recognized. It is my wish that you carry and continue to implement these fine characteristics throughout your adult lives. For as so profoundly stated by Albert Schweitzer, "You don't live in a world all alone. Your brothers are here too."

Thank you for your many fine contributions to West Bridgewater High School. Best wishes for your happiness and success in your future.

S. Erick Benson

TO THE CLASS OF 1978

Each year I am asked to write an inspirstional letter to the graduating class. It is a difficult taak to say goodbye to s group of kids and wish them well without sounding trite.

When I became sssistant principsl at West Bridgewater High School, you were in your freahman year. Our respoosibility during your high achool yesrs has been to sssist you in the development of skills which will guide you throughout your life. For most of you, high school has been an enriching experience and the ataff can be proud of this sccomplishment. There were, however, others who withdrew or whose needs were not met snd the stsff must find the means to reach students like these in future clsaaea.

I have watched you progress through school and have come to know many of you personslly. I have enjoyed working with you and I hope I hsve met my responsibilities to each of you.

Congratulations upon your graduation snd I wish all of you happiness and success in your future.
